#42 – Who Is Afraid of the Beast?

Do you fear the beast? If you fear the beast more than you fear God, that fear of the beast will set you up for the deceptions of the beast, because whatever or whoever you fear will ultimately control you.

If you fear the beast, the beast will control you.

If you fear God, God will control you.

The everlasting gospel contains God's antidote to all unhealthy fear – fear of the judgment, fear of rejection, fear of condemnation, fear of shame, and fear of punishment.

The best antidote to the fear of the beast is the fear of God. Do not be afraid of the fear of God, but embrace it, because the fear of God leads to the worship of God.

When we in worship depend on the sufficiency of God's resources for our every need, we will not fear the lying threats of the beast – that our God is semi-competent, weak and powerless to supply us all our needs.

Therefore, the best antidote to the worship of the beast is the genuine worship of the Lamb.

“Worthy is the Lamb who was slain” (Revelation 5:12).
